SEVENTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY, The Odd Fellows Celebration at the National Rifles Armory,

The seventy first anniversary of OJd Fellowship in the United States was celebrated by the local Odd Fellows in great style at the Rifles' Army last evening. The large hall was packed to its utmost capacity, and many who had invitations were unable to gain admit-tance. Headed by the Second Artillery band, the Patriarchs Militant escorted the orator of the evening, Mr. James B. Nicholson, Grand Secretary of the Pennsylvania jurisdiction, from Wil-lard's Hotel to the hall. After vocal and instrumental music the orator of the evening gave an interesting history of the order from the time of its founds tion to the present day.

Baising the Stars and Stripes.

As the strains of that patriotic hymn, "Oh, Banner, the Beautiful," issued from the throats of a score of pupils yesterday afternoon, a large American flag was run up the flag-staff on the tower of Howard University. It is the first flag that the university has ever had, consequently the occasion was made a gala one Quite a crowd of students and their friends witnessed the ceremony. Dr. Rankin delivered an address full of pa-triotism, as did several of the students, who also sang songs and gices suitable to the occasion.

"Buck Bill's" Right Eye. A well-known colored man named John Jones, but who is familiarly called "Buck Bill," celebrated his release from the workhouse yesterday date from the workhouse yesterday afternoon by getting gloriously drunk. He got into an altercation with Charles Hopkins in an E-street bar room and the latter struck him a sharp blow in the right eye. He was attended at the Emergency Hospital by Drs. Ellyson and Middleton. This morning it was found necessary to remove the injured optic and "Buck Bill" is now a oneeyed individual.

Washington Christian Workers, A delegation of over fifty Washingtonians will attend the convention of the Society of Christian Endeavor to be held at St. Louis from June 12 to 15, inclusive. The Washington delegation will be at the Hotel Richelieu. Mr. W. H. Lewis of the Navy Department has charge of the matter. There are thirty societies in this city, with an aggregate membership of quite 1,500.

Taken to Baltimore.

For several days the police officers have been on the lookout for a young man, who stole a bicycle in Baltimore from the Clark Cycle Company. Last night he was waiking along with the utmost unconcern on Pennsylvania avenue, near Seventh street, when he was arrested by Officer Boardman. He was afterwards turned over to the custody of Detective Riley, who took him to Baltimore.

WANT TO AMALGAMATE

Will the Meridian and University Club-Join Hands? The proposed formation of a Uni versity club called together a number of gentiemen at the residence of Pro fessor W. D. Cabell, 1407 Massachusett avenue, last evening. Professor John H. Voorhees presided, and the secretary's post was filled by Dr. Weston Flint. The organization committee reported that the roll already contained 150 names, and a communication from the Meridian Club was read, proposing amalgamation with the University Club. A committee, consisting of Henry

A committee, consisting of Henry Wise Garnett, A. D. Anderson and George S. Fellows, was appointed to confer with the officers of the Meridian Club in regard to the proposition. A motion was then adopted providing that Professor Voorhees appoint at some future time a committee, consisting of eighteen members, to nominate officers for the University Club.

DEACON DELANT'S CONSCIENCE It Brought Sam Diggs to Court and Cost Him $10.

Samuel Diggs, colored, insisted on giving utterance to his religious opinions in Grace Chapel on Easter night. Deacon Richard Delany, the mainstay of that colored religious body, pro-tested and some high words ensued which disturbed the congregation. "Your Honor." said the deacon, "I

"Your Honor," said the deacon, "I have been pondering over this trouble ever since Easter Sunday, and it was a question in my mind whether it would serve the interests of the church best by making complaint or not. My con-science would not allow me to pass it by entirely, so I had Sam brought in here to answer to a charge of disturb-ing the peace. Might have made it worse, you know."

The deacon's wife, Amelia, verified the charge, and Diggs had to pay a fine
